Alison Booker writes . . .

Dear Friends

It's a joy this month to be able to read that three of our churches have gained their Silver Eco Church award – this comes as a result of much effort by many people so congratulations! It made me reflect that as we make our way into 2024 we find ourselves in the usual mix of Church seasons moving from the Glory of Epiphany to the Sunday before Lent, where as always we will find ourselves at the Transfiguration, then down the mountain and into Lent. Alongside which we travel through the seasons of the natural world moving from Winter into Spring with all the signs of God at work in both. Those churches who have gained their Silver Eco church award will have been working on the connections between faith and the environment, in line with the fifth mark of mission “To strive to safeguard the integrity of creation and sustain and renew the life of the earth.” Our faith, in both the natural seasons and the seasons of faith, help us not only in this mark of mission but in others too, to proclaim the Glory of God as the Heavens do (Psalm 19) and to challenge unjust structures which so often see the poorest communities suffering most. This is a challenge, to us individually and corporately, to be the people of God in the place where we are. Speaking through word and action the love of God our creator, that others may see something of the Glory of God revealed in the Christ of Christmas and Epiphany and travel with us down the mountain and through the valley to the cross and beyond to Easter Sunday. In 2024, as the Diocese of Peterborough, let us seek to live out our faith in ways that connect with every place and every generation today.

Churchyard Moss Survey

In November I had the pleasure of accompanying Dr Rachel Carter, the County Bryophte Recorder, in a survey of St Mary's churchyard. In all we found 36 different species of moss and one liverwort – a close relation. This total may seem astonishing but is comparable with other county churchyards. Having said that I was surprised that a small town centre setting did so well.

Some mosses are recognizable by sight, others need a good hand lens and the identity of some needs examination through a microscope. Mosses are an early form of plant life and do not conform to the patterns of our usual wild and garden plants. They have no roots as such and do not transport water through veins. In dry weather they may appear to be “dead” but they come to life again as soon as their environment becomes damp.

If you would like to try to spot a couple the very common “Grimmia pulvinata; Grey-cushioned Grimmi” forms small rounded cushions on stone and brick. The tips of the leaves end in a fine hair which with the rounded shape gives it the name of the “hedgehog” moss. Spore capsules are bent in on themselves with their heads tucked into the body of the plant. There is a fine example on a flat tombstone which you can find if you walk from the main church door towards the war memorial. “Homalothecium sericeum” or “Silky Wall Feather-moss” is a spreading moss with a velvety look when damp. It is growing around the top of the steps down to the boiler.

If you are interested in knowing more the office has a copy of the survey or contact me at cjwhite123@outlook.com. There is a hidden world of moss out there which is often passed by but is all around. Time and time again it reminds me of life in the Spirit – present all the time but often unnoticed, unseen.

New Year Resolutions

Dear Friends,
Some years ago, as Rector of Wimborne Minster in Dorset, in celebration of our 1300th anniversary, I encouraged every member of the Church community to take vows of Christian commitment for the coming year. They were a sort of Christian New Year Resolutions.

The Minster, founded in 705 as a mission Church by the saxon St Cuthburga, offered the opportunity to make these promises in front of the Bishop. Almost 400 people undertook to live by the vows and this was a really important moment in our life together:

Inspired by the example of St Cuthburga,
I commit myself to live this year as a disciple of Jesus Christ guided by the Holy Spirit to the glory of God the Father

I promise to

- Pray daily
- Read the Bible regularly
- Attend public worship faithfully
- Commend the Christian faith by word and deed
- Fashion my life according to the example of Christ

- Give and forgive as generously as God has given to and forgiven me
- Promote Christian Unity

You may want to adopt all or some of these promises as your New Year resolutions. Perhaps you might replace Cuthburga with your personal Christian heroine or hero, who inspires you in following Jesus.

With my love and prayers for 2024.

+John

Mission Matters

Lea and Petra Williams - with the Church Mission Society in the Czech Republic.

Right from the start of their work for the Lord, leading the Anglican Church in the Czech city of Brno, Lea and Petra knew what he wanted them to do. It was to help grow a vibrant Christian community in which people would worship together and share food, hospitality and their lives. Now, this God-given vision is becoming a reality. Friendships are developing and the sense of community is deepening. This, though, is a community which also looks outwards. Last summer, younger members took on a week-long project to transform several classrooms at “Vesna”, the centre which supports people in need, including a large number of Ukrainian refugees. It was a blessing to them and a great success - an incentive to find more opportunity for service in the future. Lea and Petra look forward to seeing how God will lead the Brno church this year, and specifically mention for prayer a new study group which started last September at Masaryk University. It meets each week, and enables its members to bring their theological and philosophical questions to it for discussion. Lea and Petra are very conscious of the many ways in which God has blessed them and their ministry and are thankful to him. They also thank us for our continued prayer and support.

So, on behalf of the Mission Committee, thanks to everyone who prays for them and for all of our Mission Partners and supports them in the work which they do for the Lord.

Sue Eagles, for the Mission Committee

Encompass

Hi All!

We just wanted to say a big thank you to everyone that has supported us over the last year. We really are so grateful for the support you have shown us, whether it has been fundraising, awareness raising or donating. We could not provide the level of support we do without amazing people like you and also your help in spreading the word about what we do so that more people know where to come for help, is invaluable. If anyone is thinking about taking on a personal challenge this year, please consider us as a sponsorship opportunity.

If you would like to work with us again throughout 2024, please get in touch or share our details with anyone else you think might want to help support those in need in North Northants. We receive no statutory funding and rely solely on general donations and fundraising to provide the support that we do.

We wish you all a Happy New Year and look forward to working with you again in 2024!

Kind regards

The Team at Rushden Homeless Project

Crafts and Coffee/Tea

In December we made some lovely Christmas decorations.

At the beginning of January the craft group made some beautiful Calendars.

If you would like to join us our next meeting is

Don't Fall for a Scam!

Scammers are sophisticated, cunning and clever, employing many devious ways of collecting people's personal information. This enables them to know exactly who to target and which type of scam those people are most likely to fall for. They contact potential victims by post, email, text and on the doorstep. Scammers are also known as fraudsters, conmen, crooks, swindlers, cowboys and rogue traders. Do not give any personal details over the phone, no name, address, bank details etc. Legitimate companies would know your details and would not ask for pin numbers. Do not presume the caller ID telephone number displayed is legitimate. Hang up and find the phone number on your account statement, phone book or on the company's or government website. If you are not sure who is speaking to you, put the phone down. Not expecting a caller, don't answer the door. Don't reply to suspect emails or text or open an attachment. You've won a prize in the post? you did not enter, destroy and bin it. Don't be a victim, be aware!

Belfry Gossip

At the Branch Quiz in December we managed to amass two teams of ringers who regularly ring at Rushden, making eight teams in total. As well as the quiz, with questions on a wide range of subjects, there was an excellent buffet supper part way through the evening. Following the second half of the quiz a team from Bozeat/ Easton Maudit took first place and one of the Rushden teams came second. Altogether a very good evening.

During the past two months, as well as ringing on Sundays between the services, we rang a Quarter Peal to celebrate Advent, but unfortunately a quarter peal attempt prior to the Carol Service came to grief after some very good ringing. For the family service on Christmas Eve we successfully rang an eighth peal (about 25 minutes of continuous ringing), this also hopefully made the town aware of the meaning of Christmas as well as our ringing for the Christmas Day Service.

Following a shortened practice on the last Friday of the year Brenda kindly invited us for a social get together with some nibbles, a very nice and chatty evening to end the year. Thank you Brenda.

The Wellingborough Branch held a ringing meeting at Wollaston (6 bells) and the Quiz at Earls Barton since last time, and the Branch AGM will be held before you read this so more about that next time.

Also before next time we will have held our Tower AGM, so more to come after that.

If you would like to continue to receive this Newsletter in place of Grapevine then talk to St Mary's Church Office and your copy will be delivered as before unless you normally collect it yourself. For those receiving their copy by post there will be a small charge of £5 per year: if this applies to you, a note will be included with this edition

Non-subscription copies of this Newsletter are routinely made available at the back of church. If you would like to contribute towards their printing costs please put whatever seems appropriate into the old Grapevine slot by the Hymn Books in St Mary's Church.
