Helen Smedley writes . . .

Hello and Happy New Year!

January can often feel like the breath of relief after a busy Christmas period, followed by a long dark wait until spring arrives. However, it is also time of new beginnings and new outlooks in life.

This Christmas time was one of the busiest for the children and families mission work this year. Starting at the end of November we invited all the Rushden schools back for our second Christmas Experience. We kicked things off at the Rushden Light Switch on, hosting a stall inviting families to explore the church, discover the story, and join with some crafts, as well as getting out of the freezing rain! Over the following 3 weeks, St Mary's welcomed over 800 children from local schools, pre-schools and childminders to come and explore an interactive telling of the Christmas story, or a Christingle service, as well as visiting an additional 250 children in their classes to deliver a nativity escape room.

One thing that became apparent to the team over this month was how few children and families knew about the birth of Jesus. Twenty or so years ago, if you asked a room full of children about Mary, the three wise men or Bethlehem, you would quite likely have had a somewhat correct answer, but children of 2026 don't readily come by this information as they used to. Researchers have been exploring why this is, and one reason that has been observed in the last 50 years, is a culture shift that has taken place, where fewer families prioritise Sunday worship as part of family life, combined with a rise in sports and group commitments as well as other normal busy family life to-dos that spill into the weekend. This has resulted in a gap of two or even three generations where church life has become a mystery to a great number of the families we encounter. This might seem like a gloomy prospect, but we feel in St Mary's family's ministry team that it also presents an amazing plethora of opportunities. Not only did we share the nativity story with several families at the lights switch on, but we have shared it with over 1000 school children and their teachers, one of which is now regularly attending bumps and babes with their little one. 3

Romans 10: 13-14 tells us that if someone, does not believe, because they haven't heard because no one has told them, how then can they be saved! We are not the ones that can save, but we are the ones that can tell, in fact we are called to, as we can read in Mark 16:15 to "go into all the world and preach the gospel to all creation." So, why is this important to think about right now? The Christmas Experience, and the Easter experience we are hosting later in March will be part of the process of tending the ground for the Rushden Life, Mission Week coming this summer, and I encourage you all in this time to think about what this would look like for you. As a new Christian I found the prospect of sharing my faith a terrifying one, and the prospect of "go and tell" seemed like something for the elite evangelistic individuals. As time went by I found that there was another passage that helped me to shape how I did ministry and mission and it was found in John 1:46, where Philip, one of the disciples, reaches out to his friend Nathaniel, in the midst of his scepticism and doubt, Philip doesn't just tell Nathaniel about Jesus. He came alongside his friend, to the place that he was in, and invited him to come with him, "to come and see", and it is this relational, invitational ministry which I have found to be the most exciting and fruitful, and also the most realistic. We all could think of someone we have a relationship with; a friend, a college, a family member, that one person we keep bumping into as we do life! And that is where it begins, with a relationship! We believe in a God with the power to create the universe, part seas, and raise the dead to life, He is the one with the power to save, all He asks of us, is that we tell them about Jesus, whether you are a 'go and tell' person or a 'come and see', He will do amazing things, we just need to speak His name and He will do the rest. So I encourage you over the next few weeks and months, to bring to mind, two or three people in your lives, actively pray for them and how you can share the gospel with them, and to keep an eye for updates regarding the Rushden Life mission week, where there will be an event that you could invite them to 'come and see.'

Belfry Gossip

We've had our regular Friday practice nights, ringing for Sunday service and of course for Christmas Day - which brings to mind a few Carols... I heard the bells on Christmas day; Ding dong merrily on high; Ring out the old, ring in the new... A few examples of how church bells have long been announcing Christ's birth.

On 13th December a team of Rushden ringers attended the Branch quiz and, whilst the competition was close, in the end our team won by 2 points. There were 8 teams, and it was an enjoyable evening for all. Brenda prepared much of the food so great thanks go to her.

You may have spotted the Christmas tree lights shining through the window up to the ringing room, which was adorned with some new bell ornaments this year.

The Peterborough Diocesan Guild of Church Bellringers have just launched a new logo, shown above.

Every practice night has time for socialising alongside ringing practice and theory - conversation is sometimes of places we've visited and critiques of different rings of bells; sometimes discussing articles from The Ringing World (the bellringers weekly magazine); this month a discussion arose of how long we have each been ringing and our collective experience: The answer? There are 7 ringing members of the tower, with ringing experience ranging from 16 to 70 years and a collective accumulation of 323 years!!!

If you or someone you know is interested in learning to ring, and starting your journey to gaining any number of years of ringing experience, please get in touch with Brenda or Pam – we'd love to hear from you!

A Springtime for the soul

February can be a tough month. Christmas is long gone and meanwhile the winter drags on; the weather's miserable and the news relentlessly depressing. There's not much to celebrate it seems.

But there are some signs of things changing. In the woods, a scattering of brilliant yellow aconites hint at the sunshine that is to come and a bank of snowdrops defies the last frosts of the year. Nature is on the move.

And so too is God. As we enter the season of Lent, we tentatively begin our preparations for Easter. Ash Wednesday's ceremonies may seem sober; reflecting on our mortality and need for forgiveness ("remember you are dust and to dust you shall return; turn away from sin"), but also pointing us to the One in whom all our hopes are founded ("be faithful to Christ").

Traditionally a season of fasting, perhaps it might be better to think of Lent rather as a time to make space for God. Fast by all means but maybe it's head space we really need, so why not, for example, turn our smart phones off for a few hours so we can think and feel and 'be' ourselves in the presence of God rather than at the beck and call of others?

Perhaps that way we might truly make Lent, what Brother Roger of Taizé called it: "a springtime for the soul" and arrive at Easter with a renewed clarity about God's love and care for us all.

Have a spacious Lent.

“After the Earthquakes”

Can you imagine how terrifying it must be to experience not one, but three major earthquakes within six days? Last September, many people in Afghanistan were caught up in that horrific disaster, which caused unimaginable suffering and loss. More than 2,200 people were killed, over 3,600 were injured and whole villages and herds of livestock were destroyed. Many of the communities affected were already facing extreme hardship after years of conflict, the aftermath of Covid 19 and the effects of climate change. No wonder that many are still traumatised and fearful!

Tearfund has a local partner working in Afghanistan who quickly assessed what was needed most urgently and deployed relief teams to search out people in the most devastated areas. At present, 1,000 families are being supported. They are receiving cash assistance, health support, food, water and emergency shelter.

It's wonderful that, through prayerful donations to Tearfund's Emergency Aid appeal, the basic physical and material needs of many of those who have lost so much can be met. Do give thanks and pray for the Tearfund team who are managing the response to such overwhelming need. Also, do please keep praying for those affected, that the Lord will comfort and heal them in their grief, meet their needs, mentally and spiritually as well as physically, and protect them from further harm.
